

Main / Home Screen

Lower Level Screen

I include my very first design in my portfolio as a way to look back on where I started and compare current works to that starting place. I think it's important to reflect on and build up from my previous pieces, since design is a continuous process and can always be improved upon.